A R Brink & Associates

I have known and worked with A R Brink & Associates for nearly 30 years during my careers in maritime law and in P&I insurance in London.

A R Brink & Associates embody all the key attributes of a first class Marine surveying and consulting firm and regional correspondent. The team's technical knowledge of ships and cargoes, their responsiveness, professionalism and innovation in dealing with all aspects of maritime incidents and casualties, and their clear and analytical thinking and guidance both in "on the ground" response and in relation to recourse and recovery proceedings make them stand out in the field.

Furthermore, their significant contributions and input to the global marine surveying industry through very active participation in the Nautical Institute and the Honourable Company of Master Mariners reflect their commitment to serving the shipping industry and to continually improving maritime safety for the benefit of all engaged stakeholders and, importantly, for the environment.

In short, a pleasure to work with, very safe hands and peace of mind for the client.
